American Manufacturing. American Jobs.

medTV, powered by PDi, allows healthcare facility staff to improve the patient and visitor experience. Patients can heal in a comfortable environment with television, games, relaxation, and new ways to connect with providers, family, and friends. This new brand embodies the spirit of American manufacturing. With an innovative and modern approach, proven healthcare television products from PDi Communication Systems, Inc. now appeal to a new era of healthcare leaders in a memorable way.

For over 35 years, we have designed and manufactured high-quality products in Ohio. ISO-certified and privately-held, PDi has served the healthcare market exclusively to help our healthcare clients deliver a higher standard of care for patients. Our expertise covers the largest U.S. installed base of complete, UL-Listed, arm-mounted, personal patient TV systems, and the design and supply of large-screen hospital TVs, mounts, and accessories. As the owner of PDi, I understand that one size doesn't fit all. We've included 14" to 55" product configurator fold out pages to demonstrate how we can help you create the engaging, technology-driven patient environment for your unique projects.

Beyond the superior products we provide, our local, caring service can make the difference for our customers. PDi ProServices sets the standard of excellence in customer service and support for healthcare entertainment systems. Trained distributors in all major U.S. cities readily answer the phone when our customers have a need. The entire team at PDi and their passion for our work define PDi and inspire trust in our customers.

So, how can we help you?

TECHNOLOGY IN HEALTHCARE IS EVOLVING, AND SO IS PDI.

Healthcare initiatives, just like our technologies, are designed to better educate, engage, and satisfy patients while improving health outcomes. The newest brand by PDi, medTV® powered by PDi, delivers comforts of modern-day home entertainment to the patient and visitors. Patients can enjoy more than TV channels as they heal with built-in games and relaxation apps. We are also the preferred hardware partner with leading interactive patient software system vendors when you are ready to progress to more on-demand, interactive entertainment and patient education.

We invite you to explore medTV in this catalog. The possibilities are endless.

"Healthcare will be less frustrating when the power shifts from the sellers to the buyers, and when the patients are more in charge. The essence of the new era of medicine is powered by digitization... the common thread is the power of information and individualization."
